

Sacred Geometry

Sacred Geometry is the universal design system through which the energies of creation organize themselves into form. The patterns and shapes of sacred geometry makeup all living things but can most obviously be seen in nature, for instance in the beautiful patterns of snowflakes, the shapes and forms of crystals and the intricate design of flowers and pinecones.

Sacred Geometric shapes contain life force energy, light, sound and colour arranged in specific patterns of creation. They can help us to raise our consciousness and 'remember' ourselves as the divine beings that we truly are. In the ancient mystery schools, the study of sacred geometry was considered an indispensable requirement for gaining a greater understanding of life.

The layers of our Light Body are made up of sacred geometric shapes each holding a level of consciousness that provides an anchor point for our multidimensional self. As we raise our consciousness beyond third dimensional understandings our ability to connect with these layers of ourselves to become intentional creators is expanding rapidly.

It’s particularly helpful if you find it difficult to centred and balanced when there is a lot going on around you. As you take the essence visualise yourself standing inside your own personal Octahedron and make sure that you leave everything else on the outside of it.

Dodecahedron Essence

The basic shape of the Christ Conscious grid around the Earth is a Dodecahedron. This is also the geometric shape that surrounds each of us on the outer-most layer of our light body. It will also promote a greater alignment with and experience of your own Divinity.

Icosahedron Essence

The Icosahedron brings in a flow of feminine, creative energies that are both expansive and flowing in nature. This Essence promotes creativity, movement and flexibility.

- Key Points
- Element: Water
 - Flow of Life force
 - Emotions
 - Feminine Creativity

Flower of Life Essence

The ancient pattern of the Flower of Life is the original blueprint for creation in our universe. Hidden within the flowing feminine circles of creation that are visible in the pattern, are Metatron’s Cube and all the Platonic Solid shapes contained within it. These structures can be revealed by drawing straight lines connecting the centres of the circles in the correct order. The reflection of your own Divinity is held within the energetic template of this pattern. Use the essence to release distortions in your own blueprint and connect you more fully with the inter-connectedness and sacredness of Life.

- Key Points
- Ancient Memory
 - Divine Blueprint
 - Sacredness

Sphere Essence

The Sphere represents the Void, the place from which all of creation is initiated. This is deep, feminine energy that will help connect you with your own creative, sacred centre. If you are feeling scattered take a few drops of the essence and connect with the Sphere that forms one of the outer layers of your energy field, gather all of yourself within it and breath out to the edges of the Sphere and back for a while. Use this essence when you need help to connect with your own calm, sacred centre of creative ‘beingness’.

- Key Points
- The Void
 - Beingness
 - Creativity

Star Tetrahedron Essence

The human Mer-Ka-Bah field is a spinning Star Tetrahedron, activated by light and love. This geometric shape holds a level of consciousness that will help you to connect to fifth dimensional unity consciousness. Drawn two dimensionally it is the ancient symbol of the Star of David, symbolising amongst other things the weaving together of the spiritual and physical aspects of ourselves. Use this essence to enhance unity consciousness and bring balance and integration to your inner male/female polarities, heart & mind, and spirit & matter.

- Key Points
- Integration
 - Unity Consciousness
 - Mer-Ka-Bah

Metatron’s Blend Essence

This essence is for those who would like to work with the energies of all five Platonic Solid shapes and the Sphere together. The energetic patterning of Metatron’s Cube is also incorporated into this combination of essences. It acts as a powerful reminder to our energetic matrix of its original structure and form, as well as stimulating the conscious memory of the sacredness and interconnectedness of all life. This is a universally applicable essence for all those intent upon awakening to their full potential.

- Fire, Air, Earth, Water, Ether & Void
 - Combination Essence
 - Awakening to Full Potential

Inner Light Essence

The Inner Light Essence is a a blend of all five Platonic Solid Essences & Sphere, together with Gold, Shattuckite & Green Calcite. This combination will help the body and its energetic structure remember how to absorb and use the regenerative properties of light. We are all currently involved in a process of evolution which is rapidly expanding our consciousness and promoting change in our energetic structures. A major aspect of this evolutionary change is the requirement for us to remember how to use and assimilate high frequency energy in the form of light, through all aspects of our being. However, the old patterns of density that we have become accustomed to, create a resistance to this process that can sometimes be slow to shift, especially at a denser level. This combination will help to break down that resistance and remind us of our original patterning of perfection.

- Key Points
- Original Patterning
 - Combination Essence
 - Opening to the Light
